Va. Capitol Police adding a new Public Relations Specialist to the team

Richmond – The Virginia Division of Capitol Police are adding a new Public Relations Specialist to the organization. Colonel McKee announced this week that Ms. Caroline Frye joined the agency effective 4/10/2025 and was chosen for the position following the completion of a competitive and comprehensive selection process.

Ms. Frye holds a bachelor's degree from Virginia Commonwealth University in Criminal Justice while minoring in media studies and has held positions as a multi-media specialist in the private sector as well as working for the Virginia Correctional Center for Women. Ms. Frye has experience as a professional freelance photographer as well.

Ms. Frye will serve as the Division of Capitol Police primary point of contact for all media related inquiries. Her contact information is listed as follows:

Caroline M. Frye
Public Relations Specialist
Division of Capitol Police
804-786-2522 (Office)
1001 East Broad Street
Richmond, VA. 23219
cfrye@dcp.virginia.gov

Colonel McKee stated “I am very happy to welcome Ms. Frye to our team. It remains a top priority for our agency to not only recruit but also retain talented individuals like Caroline. After all, our people are vital to the success of our mission. Providing outstanding customer service, while maintaining a safe and secure environment for visitors, stakeholders, and elected officials, is something we strive for each day. This type of excellence is reflected in our agencies’ core values of Devotion, Character and Professionalism”.
